

HUGO BOSS

KKAG Partnership

The Retail Design and former Shop Construction management teams of HUGO BOSS AG have worked for many years with KKAG and Patrick Schroeder.

Through skilled moderation in analysing our critical business issues, both operational as well as strategic, Patrick has been an excellent consultant for our department, in defining short, mid and long term solutions to improve the effectiveness of our business strategies.

Particularly in HR issues, both operational and strategic, the workshops have played a central role in the people management policies for our teams. From the effectiveness of performance reviews, to performance/ profile analyses, the coaching sessions allowed us to sustainably improve both the competence and motivational levels of our people.

It is the keen understanding of the nature of our business, an in-depth experience in such a wide variety of industries, the excellent vocational skill in people management, and a personal attitude which fits so well to the team, which had made working with Patrick always such a benefit for our department and for each of us individually!

Yours faithfully,
Hermine Matzer
